Bay's Watson is Coast's Top Cop

Chosen from all Coastal police/sheriff's depts. & military bases

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

A Bay St. Louis police officer has been named the Mississippi Gulf Coast's top cop.

Bay Police Department's Detective Don Watson was honored Friday as the Coast Law Enforcement Officer of the Year, receiving the Law Enforcement Award of Distinction at the 20th annual Law Enforcement Appreciation Breakfast sponsored by the Coast Crime Commission at Treasure Bay Casino Resort in Biloxi.

"I really feel honored to be the Coast's police officer of the year," Watson said Friday after the event.

He said he was especially humbled, since he was chosen from a field that includes all law enforcement agencies in all three Coastal counties, including all municipal police departments, county sheriff's offices, the Mississippi Highway Patrol and military bases.

Watson had been named a Coast Crime Commission Law Enforcement Officer of the Quarter last year after risking his life to help stop a man who had barricaded himself in his home on State St. after killing another man, before ultimately turning the gun on himself.

Other Coast-area officers who had been up for the award included the other three Officers of the Quarter from last year and three alternates.

Those officers were Sgt. Vernon

Relay for Life

Cancer survivors are in good spirits – and get a huge round of applause – when they kick off the Hancock County leg of the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life Friday evening at Hancock Medical Center's walking track. This year's annual fundraiser was the largest ever, and proceeds were well in excess of the $23,000 goal. Look for exact figures and more photos in Thursday's Echo.

That's pretty much how James Rafferty describes Europa Cruises Corp. President and CEO Deborah Vitale's master plan for Creole Bay Casino, the long-awaited resort gaming facility proposed at the 404-acre Casino World site at Diamondhead.

Rafferty, a former vice-president with Harvey's Casinos, is not a Europa Cruises shareholder.

'Holy Infant' pilgrimage begins this week at Clermont Harbor

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

You might not expect to see a genuine holy pilgrimage in Hancock County, but that's exactly what's going to happen at St. Ann Church this week as hundreds of worshippers – including Biloxi Diocese Bishop Thomas Rodi – will gather at St. Ann's Catholic Church in Clermont Harbor for The Holy Infant of Good Health Triduum and Feast Day Celebration.

"When (people) pray to the Holy Infant, they receive peace, and health and help, too," Sister Maria

Carmen Aguilar said. Sister Carmen, a native of Queretaro, Mexico, moved to Waveland in 1998 along with two other nuns of the order Missionaries of the Holy Infant of Jesus of Good Health. The order operates locally through St. Ann's, the Hispanic Ministry through St. Thomas in Long Beach, and the Biloxi Diocese.

Among many other church and charitable activities, the order helps

Longo: Aldermen on a 'witch hunt'

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

The on-going private battle between members of the Waveland Board of Aldermen and Mayor John "Tommy" Longo turned very public again last week at a board meeting, prompting Longo to accuse aldermen of being on a "witch hunt."

Aldermen have vigorously criticized Longo both publicly and privately over the past several months, challenging many of his actions as well as his credibility and integrity.

And both Ward 1 Alderman Milton Bernard and Ward 3 Alderman Louie Smolensky have hinted strongly in recent months that they're each considering bids in November to unseat Longo.

The latest round of controversy came near the end of the meeting last week after the board had already concluded a lengthy agenda and were preparing to adjourn.

That's when Ward 4 Alderman Charles Piazza asked Longo why he didn't stay in Jackson for a recent conference after the city had already paid his expenses.

Longo and board members exchanged some heated words before Longo said he had been unable to attend the conference because of a family emergency. He added that he had already reimbursed the city by placing a check for the travel expenses in a sealed envelope in the back of a drawer in a city clerk's desk in city hall.

The clerk said she had seen no such envelope, and immediately went to her office to find it. When she brought it back minutes later, she told Longo "Don't ever do that to me again," saying she was not bonded to be responsible for city funds in that manner.

Longo told aldermen he always pays for his own expenses, yet they constantly snipe at him over city funds.

"You know," he said, "it's becoming a witch hunt."

"We're not on a witch hunt," Piazza said. "If we're gonna put money up for you to travel," Longo should at least do something to justify the expense.

"One of the things that the city has asked us to do," Longo said, "is put aside personal b.s., and that's what this is."

In other action:

• Aldermen opened and reviewed sealed construction bids for the expansion and renovation of the Waveland Library. They took all bids under advisement for action at a later meeting.

• The board heard from Cindy Eberhart, an Espana Park resident, who complained about the constant noise and terrible smell coming from the sewage plant.

The problem, board members said, is that the plant is not under the control of the city of Waveland, but under Southern Regional Wastewater Management District.

Southern Regional's director was present at the meeting, and assured Eberhart that much of the problem had been solved with recent equipment replacement, but said she would be glad to meet with anyone living near the plant to discuss remedies to complaints. Longo and aldermen also said they'd be available to offer any help they could.

• The board also discussed an upcoming significant rate hike posed to the city by Southern Regional, since the payment is coming due on bond money used to make upgrades at the plant. Longo said the upgrades began three years ago as part of a comprehensive, county-wide effort that became necessary after a sewage spill into Edwards Bayou.

Bernard said that at the time the board was made aware of the upgrades, they were also told that "We were not supposed to have to start paying this loan back. ... If that price goes way up, we will have no choice but to pass that cost on to the citizens of Waveland."

Longo, who is on the Southern Regional board along with Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre and Hancock County Board of Supervisors President Rocky Pullman, said the board was already looking at loans and grants to potentially defray part of the additional cost post to the county and both cities. And, Longo said, 10 years or so down the road, the plant upgrades will actually reduce rates.

Picnics to end libraries' children's story hours for 2001-2002 season

"Let's Have a Picnic" will be the theme of the children's story hour at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library on Wednesday, May 15, at 10:30 a.m. and at the Kiln Public Library on Thursday, May 16, at 10:30 a.m.

The programs will be the last of the season until September. Preregistration and registration for the library system's 2002 summer reading program will begin May 20. Children will receive coloring sheets.

Weekly story hours are held September through May. Programs last approximately one half hour, depending upon subject matter and planned activity.

Programs and activities are designed for pre-school age children three to five years old who are not part of a nursery or pre-school group.

For individual branch story hour information, contact Adrienne Bradley, Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library, 467-5282; or Sandra Ladner, Kiln Public Library, 255-1724.

Merchant Marine veterans to conduct memorial May 21

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Chapter of the American Merchant Marine Veterans will conduct memorial services for their deceased members and recognize National Maritime Day (May 22).

The event takes place May 21 at 10 a.m. at the Seamen's Memorial, Washington Avenue at Front Beach Blvd. in Ocean Springs.

The public is invited. The chapter's monthly meeting will follow at the Holiday Inn, Coliseum, Biloxi, in the Dauphin Room.

RSVP meeting only. For details, contact W. L. "Dub" Bourgeois at 228-864-7936.

Hancock gets failing grade in state air quality report

BY JASON STRAZIUSO
Associated Press Writer

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The air quality in four Mississippi counties gets failing marks in a recent American Lung Association survey, but other counties examined get mostly passing grades.

DeSoto County in north Mississippi had the worst air quality in the state, while Jackson County on the Gulf Coast ranked second worst, the survey found. Lee and Hancock counties also got failing grades in the study.

"We're very pleased that overall the state of Mississippi has a high quality of air," said Bob Hotchkiss, president of the American Lung Association of Mississippi. "We want people to be conscious of air quality, even here in Mississippi."

The findings, released recently as part of the group's annual "State of the Air" report, show that some 142 million Americans nationwide live in places with high levels of ozone air pollution, or smog.

The report examined ozone air quality data taken by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency from 1998 to 2000 in nearly 700 counties nationwide.

Hotchkiss said while many Mississippians probably think the state's air quality is fine, smog can be a serious health problem for the young, the elderly and those with respiratory problems. The survey found that during the three-year study period, DeSoto County had 28 days of air deemed unhealthy for sensitive groups — such as those with asthma and the elderly — and one day deemed unhealthy for the general population.

Mike Norcom, the air monitoring manager for the state Department of Environmental Quality, said DeSoto County's air can be polluted because of the Memphis urban area.

"Memphis. That's what we've always blamed it on," he said.

Jackson County had 20 days of unhealthy air for sensitive groups and three days unhealthy for everyone, the study found.

Jackson County's air is worse than in other counties because it is a major industrial area and because it is downwind from a coal-burning power plant, Hotchkiss said.

Lee County had 20 days of unhealthy air for sensitive groups. Hancock had 19 of those days.

Hinds County, which includes the Jackson area, had four days deemed unhealthy for sensitive groups. Hotchkiss said despite the fact Hinds County is the most populated in the state, it has always received fairly good air quality marks.

"That's been consistent through the years," he said.

Air monitoring data was recorded in 12 Mississippi counties. Besides the four counties given failing grades, Adams County was given a "D," Hinds, Lauderdale, Madison and Warren counties were given a "C."

Elizabeth Barber, a spokeswoman for the American Lung Association, said that one "could make the jump" that there are monitoring facilities in the counties where it's assumed there are air pollution problems.

Mississippi air quality has improved over the last several decades, Hotchkiss said, but it has remained stable in the last several years.

He said improvements in vehicle fuel efficiency and lead-free gas made for the big initial improvements.

Dunbar Village kicks off National Nursing Home Week with Mother's Day Tea

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO

Dunbar Village Nursing Home is celebrating National Nursing Home Week from today, Sunday, May 12 to Saturday, May 18, with the following events.

Sunday, May 12 — A special afternoon tea for residents and their families is scheduled at 2:30 p.m. on Mother's Day, the first day of the celebration.

Monday, May 13 — "A Day at the Beach." The staff will be in beach attire dancing to the Beach Boys' music to entertain the residents. The residents will compete in locating (with their bare feet) hidden prizes in the sand ... that's real sand brought in from the beach. There'll be beach decorations and beach picnic food for all.

Tuesday, May 14 — The residents will be making sunshine faces. Then, each resident's photo will be pasted in the middle of a sunshine face and all will be hung on a special "sunshine tree" as a permanent piece of art work to sit on the grand piano in the dining room.

Wednesday, May 15 — The Diamondhead dancers will entertain in the morning, and the Hancock singers will entertain in the afternoon.

A variety of activities and board games are scheduled for Thursday and Friday.

Saturday, May 18 — The week will end with a movie and popcorn at 2:30 p.m.

The number of residents in nursing homes is dramatically increasing. This week is celebrated to spotlight the crucial role nursing facilities play in delivering quality care to the 1.5 million people who reside in nursing homes.

The week is also a vehicle for celebrating care providers, volunteers, families and others from the community who give their time and loving care to our wonderful elders, who have given so much to the community in the past.

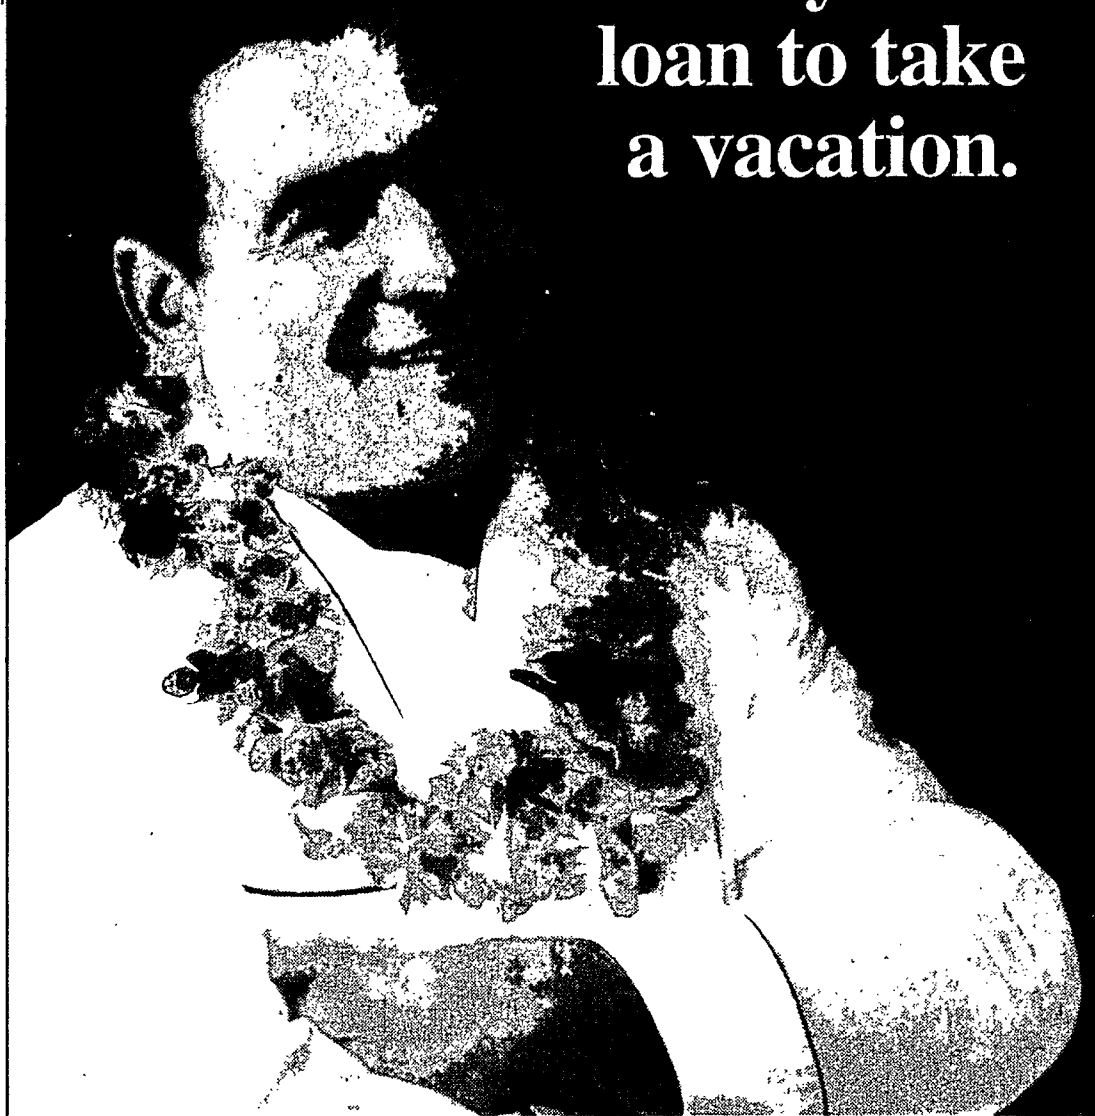

Dunbar Village Activities Director, Stephanie Parker, said, "We're dedicated to making our residents' lives happy and fulfilling. Join us at their home and our home for this week's fun and celebration." (725 Dunbar Avenue, 466-3099.)

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

Get ready for Police Officers Memorial Day

On Wednesday, law enforcement agencies in Hancock County will join agencies across the country, will honor comrades-at-arms who have died in the line of duty. The special day has been set aside by an act of Congress.

The Special Day's celebration will be 10 a.m. on the front lawn of the Hancock County Courthouse, Main Street, Bay St. Louis.

Hancock County Sheriff's Department, Bay St. Louis and Waveland Police Departments extend an invitation to all residents to attend.

The week of May 15th is dedicated as "Police Officers Memorial Day." Also by an act of Congress, it is a day on which all American flags should fly at half-mast.

Law enforcement officers place their life on the line in doing their job to protect the general public, and we need to recognize this and show our support and appreciation to them for the job they do.

A police officer never knows what the "next corner" will bring and even routine calls can turn into a life threatening situation.

We hope to see you at the Courthouse on Wednesday morning.

Today is a special day which is dedicated to mothers. Mothers Day is a time when children and spouses try and make mothers the real queen they are.

Mothers are really the glue that holds a family together, so each of us have to remember her today.

Take her out to eat, give her flowers, candy, or something that is very special to her.

I too, realize there are many like me whose mother is no longer with them. Today is a time to recall the many good things she was in your life.

Happy Mothers Day to all mothers, and grandmothers and great-grandmothers too.

The drought this past month is really beginning to take its toll on lawns, shrubs, flower and vegetable gardens.

If we do not receive some rain soon, once again we will begin to lose some of our mature trees too.

Hopefully we will receive some rain soon.

I know that I have been having to water my flowering shrubs and flower garden in addition to small red potato hill in recent weeks.

Another thing one has to remember that wild fires can really be dangerous, so extremely careful with fires.

Our woods are very dry and wildfires can travel very fast, especially with the windy days we have been having.

Mississippi's high on the hog in 'pork' ranking

According to the Citizens Against Government Waste (CAGW) 2002 "Pig Book," Mississippi ranks 6th on their list of 50 states receiving federal "pork" - a term often used to describe "wasteful" federal spending outside Washington.

Mississippi's rank is down a little, but still very respectable. Of course, the definition of wasteful "pork" is always in the eye of the beholder.

In my eye, if its south of Memphis, it sure isn't pork. So, with that definition in place, let me give you some examples of federally funded projects which Mississippi's Congressional delegation was happy to secure for our state's citizens.

From the Senate

by U.S. Senator
Trent Lott

Keep in mind, all of this spending for our home state is unneeded and unwarranted, according to CAGW's cubicle-bound Washington "experts."

This year, federal expenditures for the ongoing Nissan project were particularly irritating to CAGW, and especially pleasing to tens of thousands of Mississippians who will be employed by Nissan and its supplier network.

For example, a $500,000 study for the Madison County School District - which I earmarked in this year's Labor, Department/Health and Human Services (HHS) Appropriation Bill - was singled out by the Pig Book's composers.

Not mentioned was the very obvious reason for this project. It will help the Madison County School District make preparations for the inevitable influx of new students that the Nissan plant will bring.

This is very important for ensuring that both current and new students in Madison County schools receive a quality education. It will help this district's teachers, administrators and students prepare for some very dramatic changes ahead.

CAGW also attacked university-level education ini-

Supervisors lacking in good faith, courtesy

Dear Editor,
I would like to make a few observations about the county supervisors' meeting I attended Monday morning. I'm certain the supervisors would be very surprised to see themselves on video.

I'm sure none of them intended to sound rude or arrogant, but they did.

Of course, the important issue here isn't courtesy. The important issue is democracy, and how comfortable citizens feel bringing forward their grievances to public officials.

I was shocked in this small town to hear a public official announce that nothing we citizens said would make a difference.

Intransigence is not what such meetings were designed for. They were designed for give and take. They were designed as open forums, and it's part of a public servant's job description to listen, and to listen, I would add, courteously. Good manners go a long way by reassuring people in a democracy that they are well represented, because their representatives are listening well.

The issue that received the most debate can be summarized this way: parking spaces versus green space. In fact, it should not be an issue of pavement versus trees.

Both positions, with a little courtesy, with a little communication, can be accommodated.

With good, dedicated planning, no one needs to lose; both sides can win. But, for both sides to win requires both sides sitting down in good faith.

This time around, that good faith appeared to be lacking on the supervisors' side. Let's hope things improve.

Sincerely,
Diane Stevenson
Bay St. Louis

Letters to the Editor

Cutting down courthouse trees does us all a disservice

Dear Editor:
I'm worried about the county supervisors' recent decision to ignore a plea by concerned citizens to save some trees slated for destruction at the county courthouse.

Trees are assets. They contribute to the town's appeal, and that appeal contributes to the town's prosperity.

People buying homes and building businesses here are attracted by the way in which our town has remained a small town with a small town's charm.

Trees are part of what makes Bay Saint Louis a place apart. I'm afraid the county supervisors don't see this, and not seeing this, their decision does the town an economic disservice.

A concerned citizen,
Kathleen Currie

SCHOOLS

Q May a board of supervisors contract with a construction company to renovate and/or build lanes on a track located at a high school?

A The intent of Section 19-3-42(4) is to allow counties to use county equipment and manpower to maintain school grounds.

A board of supervisors is without authority to contract with a construction company for the building of track lanes at the local high school. (Attorney General's opinion to Chamberlin dated February 26, 2002)

Q May a board of supervisors provide the use of its equipment and county employees to take down a building on city property and transport it to district school grounds?

A No. A board of supervisors lacks such authority. (Attorney General's opinion to Smith dated February 22, 2002) tiatives - also related to the Nissan plant. Part of Mississippi's successful effort to recruit Nissan was a commitment by local, state and federal representatives to establish a Center for Advanced Vehicular Systems, to be administered by Mississippi State University.

This center will teach skills needed by the Southeast's emerging auto industry, and it will also make Mississippi more competitive for future auto industry jobs.

This year, I was pleased to include $200,000 in federal funding for this educational center in the Labor, HHS Bill - another waste according to the Pig Book.

It is easy for sophisticated folks in Washington to forget where food comes from, but nevertheless some folks at CAGW apparently do.

Agricultural research is another area in which CAGW apparently believes our federal government should not spend money. However, I am very proud to join Senator Cochran in funding important agricultural research initiatives, ranging from shrimp farming to raising sweet potatoes.

I am also glad that we were able to fund a number of flood control projects around our state, which are essential to protecting lives and farmland.

The same can be said for water and wastewater improvements in rural areas like Jefferson County, which is getting a $4 million federal earmark this year for a new water system.

This will provide residents there a safe, clean supply of water - hardly considered wasteful federal spending by most, but still unneeded according to CAGW's Washington staff.

Finally, we are funding dramatic improvements to Mississippi's transportation system, upgrading airports throughout the state and constructing newer and safer roads and bridges like I-69 and the new Greenville bridge.

We are also funding new local interchange projects such as the upcoming U.S. 49 and I-55 flyover which will improve traffic flow near the busy "stack" in Jackson.

All of these projects are wasteful too, according to CAGW. By the way, Senator Cochran and I were also pleased to help promote the acquisition of Mississippi's Deer Island to preserve its unique natural beauty - also a waste according to CAGW.

It is clear, CAGW believes any federal expenditure outside Washington is unnecessary, even for projects to improve education, transportation, jobs - and even the environment. However, Mississippi is in the Union too.

If we must use our political acumen to get part of our money back, then so be it. In this regard, CAGW's report indicates Mississippi is doing very well.

Hancock school board clashes over conference, dress code.

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

Things got a little heated at a Hancock County School Board meeting last week after board member Peggy Ladner suggested her fellow board members had wasted more than $2,000 in district funds by registering for the National School Boards Association Conference in New Orleans last month, then not attending all four days of the event.

All five of the board members had registered for the event at a cost of $2,750.

However, Ladner said, she was the only one who actually went all four days. Board members Lennette Necaise and Kenny Seals only attended two days, Larry Peterson attended one day and, to her knowledge, board President Cheryl Bennett didn't go at all.

"That means $2,200 of that was wasted," Ladner said.

Peterson said he had spent several hours at the conference and "I don't need you checking up on me."

"Let me tell you something, Peggy," Bennett said. "There are times when you make commitments and plans, and then other things come up that take priority. Now that's said, but it happens."

Bennett said she had attended the conference on Sunday, but didn't sign in. She had intended to go to the rest of the conference, she said, but had been prevented due to a family emergency.

Ladner said she felt there had been other instances where board members had spent money that didn't necessarily need to be spent.

"We (Peterson, Necaise and Bennett) have been board members of this district for many, many years," Bennett said. "The few instances you're talking about are far outweighed by everything we've done in those years," including countless hours of time and effort devoted to the district, along with personal expenditures that are never reimbursed.

"You've been a board member for a year," Bennett said. "One year don't make you an expert."

Ladner had already raised some eyebrows earlier in the meeting when she asked board members to consider relaxing the dress code at Hancock High School during a discussion of upcoming changes to the student handbook.

Bennett, Peterson and Necaise along with Hancock High Principal Donnie Gholston — disagreed with Ladner's assessment that the current dress code is "too detailed," and both stifles the students and wastes teachers' time by constantly requiring them to "write up" the students.

Ladner said she had spent a considerable amount of time studying other school districts' codes and "I can't find another school district with 28 items on their dress code. We beat our kids down with this. We really do."

She said she had heard complaints from students and teachers alike that the dress code is unevenly enforced and bogs down the educational process.

"From a legal standpoint," Bennett said, "I like the detail (in the code), because if we're challenged legally, we're covered. ... I think we need to keep it as is, and if teachers want to challenge it, they need to come here and champion there cause."

However, she said, she had to date not heard any complaints from teachers on the matter.

In other action at the meeting:

• Superintendent for Education Mike Ladner recommended that the district change its current attendance policies. Under his new plan, which adheres more strictly to the state's approved plan, he said, "If a student has 12 'unlawful absences,' he goes directly to the truant officer." Unlawful absences are defined as those for which students do not provide adequate documentation, such as a doctor's excuse or an obituary notice to prove the student missed school due to a death in the family.

Over the past two years, the district has tried several methods to improve average daily student attendance, he said, but it remains static at about 94-96 percent. The burden of improving attendance should rightfully fall on the shoulders of state truant officers: "They have not done their job. We have not pressured them to do their job. We need to start doing that."

Currently, the state Dept. of Education has only one truant officer in the area to cover both Harrison and

Hancock counties

Supt. Ladner said that despite all the district's efforts, it has no punitive powers that would force parents to make sure their children attend class.

"We can scare 'em," he said. "We can find 'em. We can intimidate and harass 'em. But we can't make 'em."

Last year, state truant officers actually jailed three parents in the district for not ensuring their children actually attended classes, Ladner said.

"The truancy officers are the only ones who can do that," he said. "Until we can get the legitimate authority that is responsible for this ... to do their job, we're spinning our wheels."

The board approved Ladner's recommendation with only Necaise dissenting. Under the new policy, students would have up to three school days to provide adequate documentation.

• Supt. Ladner also notified board members that due to uneven population growth in the county, they will have to address the issue of redistricting before the next election.

According to 2000 U.S.

Census reports, the current population of District 1 is 4,334; District 2 — 4,130; District 3 — 6,114; District 4 — 4,263; and District 5 — 5,303.

Under the law, he said, based on a total population of 24,144 people living in all five districts, each individual district's target population should be 4,829.

That puts districts 1, 2 and 4 under the target population and District 3, which includes the rapidly-growing Diamondhead area, 1,285 above the target population.

Celebrity Chefs Celtic Fest a huge success

On May 5, Our Lady of the Gulf Parish Community Center was the place to be here on the Coast. People from Alabama to Louisiana turned out to enjoy an evening full of music and entertainment, food, and auction.

Even Carmen Miranda and Santa Claus were in attendance. Entertainment at the fourth annual Celebrity Chefs Celtic Fest included The Pat Murphy Band, Ronnie Kole, and the Mississippi Magic Dancers.

Cinco de Mayo was the festive theme this year as guests were treated to incredible cuisine from several top Coast restaurants competing for two Top Culinary Awards: "People's Choice Award" and "Critic's Choice Award."

All the restaurants went all out in creating incredible menus that had everyone experiencing "gourmet euphoria." Some of the competitors included Cafe Reef with "Crabmeat and Shrimp Stuffed Mushrooms with a Crab Sauce," Sueraine's Catering serving "Grits & Griliads" and Toscana presenting its "Seven Seas Gumbo and Tuscan Wrap — apple-smoked bacon wrapped around scallops with spinach and artichoke cream sauce."

Bay City Grill, Cajun Connection, Chappy's, Favre's On the Bayou, Kelley's Seafood, Jackie O's, Jack's Steakhouse, Southern Delights, Tigre's & Trapani's Eatery were among the other fabulous restaurants presenting incredibly tantalizing and sensational cuisine.

The panel of honorary judges, in deciding the winner of the Critic's Choice Award, were ultimately impressed by Tigre's "Pan Seared Sea Scallops" served on a bed of Truffle Spinach with purple onions and Balsamic syrup as well as Tigre's "Creole Crab Bisque" garnished with fire-roasted corn and jumbo lump crabmeat salsa.

The crowd was also wowed by the talent of Tigre's chefs Thomas Genin and Victor Pickich and sent them home with the trophy for People's Choice Award.

This marked the second year in a row that these two talented chefs took both top trophies. Trapani's Eatery took second place in both categories for Chef Tony Trapani's fabulous "Stuffed Soft-shell Crawfish served on a bed of Crawfish Bisque, topped with a little hollandaise and green tomato relish. Favre's On the Bayou and Bay City Grill placed third for the Critic's People's Choice Awards, respectively. Congratulations to all of the participants ... Our Coast chefs are our home-town celebrities, and we are truly fortunate to benefit from their talent.

The Celebrity Chefs Celtic Fest was a wonderful success. Everyone had fabulous a time thanks to the hard work and efforts of many individuals and businesses along the Gulf Coast. Over $30,000 was raised by the event with all proceeds going to benefit the Building Campaign for Our Lady Academy and BCE.

Each year the Celebrity Chefs Celtic Fest is growing and becoming one of the most popular annual events along the Coast.

Tigre's chefs Thomas Genin and Victor Pickich won the People's Choice Award at the Celebrity Chefs Celtic Fest for the second year in a row.

but is the founder of the Customers First Casino Corp. and represents a group of concerned Europa stockholders. That group includes two members of Europa's board of directors, James Illius and John Duber. Duber and Illius have filed petitions with the Security and Exchange Commission (SEC), seeking to reconstitute the board and oust Vitale and replace her with Rafferty.

Rafferty was brought in because of close business ties to Illius's father, Thomas Illius, who is in the entertainment industry and represents such stars as Bill Cosby.

"We want to build a deluxe casino entertainment property," Rafferty said Thursday, "and that is vastly different than a resort destination casino," such as that proposed by Vitale.

Vitale unveiled the first comprehensive design and plan for the facility at a press conference on Wednesday during the Southern Gaming Summit in Biloxi.

The plan calls for a dockside casino complex, surrounded by, non-gaming activities which include shopping, entertainment, and sporting opportunities.

Francis Dumont, vice-president and managing principal of the Leo A. Daly architectural firm, said at the press conference Wednesday, "The resort will be geared to the typical middle-America gambling market, providing a variety of activities for all family members, linked by a monorail."

Dumont said that in addition to the casino, the phased development will eventually include four non-gaming hotels, five restaurant pads, an outlet mall, a regional convention center, an RV park, and condominiums at full build-out. If the project goes as planned, it could eventually have up to 3,500 rooms on site.

It sounds like a great project, Rafferty said, but one that could never realistically be built because investors could never find enough financial backing.

"You develop projects that you can get financed," he said, "because if you can't get them financed, you can't get them built."

"This is one of the best development sites in the entire country for the right casino - but it has to be the right casino."

Rafferty says he envisions a somewhat smaller project, geared more toward local communities than toward drawing high-rollers from far-away places. His vision would be somewhere in the $150 million to $200 million range, and would include about 60,000 square feet of gaming space with 1,200 slot machines; a 700-room hotel; and several restaurants and other entertainment venues. However, he said, his version would be in conjunction with other, non-Europa funded partners, such as outside-hotel chains, restaurants and entertainment-based companies which would lease space on the 404-acre site to create their own facilities to attract more business.

Rafferty said that studies show "Ninety percent of the business will come from a 75-mile radius. ... Now while 10 percent of millions of people is a significant amount, the lion's share of the patrons will come from the parishes of eastern Louisiana and counties in western Mississippi."

"We want a facility that is certainly beautiful, stately, but clearly a casino that reflects the ambience and the feeling of the environment that it's in."

And with more than 24 years' experience in the gaming industry, a bachelor's degree in hotel administration from the University of Nevada - Las Vegas and a master's in industrial regulations from Rutgers, Rafferty said, he certainly knows a little about creating the right "environment."

Much of his experience has been in the personnel end of the casino business, he said, which is anywhere from 25 percent to 50 percent of a venue's expense structure. In addition to human resources development and planning and multi-million dollar labor negotiations, Rafferty has been involved in the design and construction of Harrah's at Trump Plaza in Atlantic City, N.J.; Showboat Casino in Atlantic City; and Harveys Casino in Lake Tahoe, Nevada.

The Harveys Tahoe facility presented great challenges, Rafferty said, because it is located in "one of the most environmentally-sensitive areas in the nation."

Rafferty was instrumental in working both with the corporation and environmentalists to create a plan that both sides - and the Environmental Protection Agency - were happy with.

And in 1998, then-President Bill Clinton traveled to the facility to congratulate its administration and staff and their accomplishments.

Infant -- St. Ann's

Hispanic people participate in Spanish masses and conducts home visits for the sick and the elderly.

The Clermont Harbor pilgrimage and fest day sprang from a tradition that began in 1938 in Morelia, Mexico after people began attributing amazing cures and recoveries from illness to a small wooden image of the Infant Jesus which was venerated in the home of Rosa Maria Guadalupe Calderon.

The statue was dubbed Santo Niño de la Salud, the Holy Infant of Good Health, and on April 21, 1942, the Archbishop of Morelia approved private devotion to it. In 1944, the Infant's status was crowned, and public devotion was approved.

On Jan. 5, 1959, Pope John XXII, granted a Plenary Indulgence to all pilgrims to the Holy Infant's Shrine at the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel.

St. Ann's was the first U.S. church to devote a chapel to the infant on Feb. 15, 1997.

The image of the Holy Infant from St. Ann's was taken to Morelia and, on Nov. 10, 1999, the image was blessed by the bishop to become the pilgrim statue for the U.S.

The figure of the infant Jesus was originally crafted to help children feel closer to God, Sister Carmen said. "It's more comfortable for them ...," she said. "His expression is a beautiful expression and brings peace. When a person approaches Him, they approach him with confidence. It's different than when we approach Jesus on the Crucifix. (Then) we have sorrow."

Sister Carmen attributes the local adoption of the custom to Hancock County residents Yvonne and Phillip Garcia, who had discovered the tradition while on a trip to Mexico.

The Garcias helped "spread the devotion,"

Sister Carmen said. "Since they came (to Mexico), they have been taking the Holy Infant to other parishes, to other churches, so that they will come to know it. And since they came, the feast days are being celebrated."

The Holy Infant of Good Health Triduum and Feast Day Celebration is open to everyone. It begins this Wednesday at St. Ann Church at 5858, Lower Bay Rd. in Clermont Harbor.

Schedule of events:

• Wednesday, May 15
First day of the Triduum. The theme is "Faith," with rosary and confession at 6:30 p.m., a 7 p.m. mass and speaker Fr. Saul Ayala.

• Thursday, May 16
Second day of the Triduum. The theme is "Trust," with 6:30 p.m. rosary, 7 p.m. mass and speaker Fr. Jack Rietti.

• Saturday, May 18
The theme is "Thanksgiving," with meditation rosary at 4:15 p.m. At 6:30 p.m., musicians will pay homage to the Holy Infant with song.

• Sunday, May 19, Feast Day

The procession begins outside St. Ann at 2:30 p.m., with a 3 p.m. mass, followed by a "fiesta."

Everyone is invited, but asked to bring a covered dish to feed twelve.

Those unable to attend may send petitions for Triduum prayers.

Call St. Ann Church at 467-4746 or 467-3601 for more information.

HMC hosts blood drive at its annual Health Fair on May 18

While you visit the annual Hancock Medical Center Health Fair Saturday, May 18, why not stop at the American Red Cross booth and help save a life?

The self-contained trailer will be parked to the right of the hospital entrance, and blood donations will be accepted from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

All blood types are needed, especially O negative and B negative.

The Health Fair is scheduled 9 a.m. to noon, but the Red Cross will stay an extra hour allowing health fair workers a chance to give the gift of life, too.

To donate blood you must be 17 years old or older, weigh at least 110 pounds, be in good health and have not donated in the past 56 days.

Donors will receive a free mini-physical, including checking blood pressure, pulse, temperature and iron count.

For information about giving blood or becoming a Red Cross volunteer, call 896-2217.

Cancer survivors honored on Nat'l Cancer Survivors Day

Sunday, June 2 marks the day for the 15th annual National Cancer Survivors Day, the world's largest cancer survivor event, and you're invited.

This year, more than 13,000 Mississippians will be diagnosed with cancer. Despite this number, many people are ready to celebrate their victories.

Even though some battles with this disease might not be over, cancer victims are living proof that a diagnosis of cancer is no longer a certain death sentence.

Baptist Cancer Services will be celebrating the lives of cancer survivors on National Cancer Survivors Day, Sunday, June 2, from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the new Hederman Cancer Center, 1227 North State Street, Jackson, just prior to the grand opening of the Hederman Cancer Center, which will be held at 3 p.m.

Organizers of this local event are encouraging everyone to attend the celebration to show their support for cancer survivors, their families, friends and healthcare providers.

"The event, which is free and open to the public, will provide a chance for cancer survivors and their families, as well as those who have lost loved ones to cancer, to celebrate the fight against cancer," said Bobbie Were, director of Baptist Cancer Services.

The guest speaker will be Christine K. Clifford, president and chief executive officer of The Cancer Club. She is a breast cancer survivor and is a humorist, author and professional speaker. Nikki Brown, program director and mid-day personality for Mix98.7, will emcee the event.

A cancer survivor is defined by the National Cancer Survivors Day Foundation as anyone living with a history of cancer. This includes newly diagnosed survivors as well as long-term survivors.

"Since the number of death caused by cancer is second only to heart disease, it is important for all of us all to learn as much about this diseases as possible - and the sooner the better, as many forms of cancer can be prevented and most cured if detected early," Ware added.

"Knowledge, hope and inspiration can help beat cancer. And there's no better place to find it than at a National Cancer Survivors Day event. We hope Mississippians will join us at our community's event and show support. Then, join us for the grand opening of the Hederman Cancer Center."

Sheriff's Day Camp seeks applicants ages 12 to 14

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

Hancock County Sheriff Steve Garber announces he will sponsor two, week long Day Camps this, summer, and applications are now being taken.

"Due to the tremendous success of last year's Day Camp, this summer I will sponsor two sessions of one week each for boys and girls ages 12, 13, and 14," Garber said.

Applications are now being taken for the Day Camps, with a choice of the week of June 17-21, or July, 15-19. The hours will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Thursday primarily at the Hancock County Civic Center, Longfellow Road, and on Friday, the final day at McLeod State Park on Texas Flat Road which will be a day of games, awards and a bar-b-cue.

The first four days will be a fun experience for the teenagers, as they will be taught such subjects as boating safety, fire safety, first aid, animal care, and tours of county facilities, Sheriff Garber said.

Attendees will be selected from 12, 13, and 14-year-olds applicants who are residents of Hancock County.

Applications are available at the schools and also several community grocery stores. They must be returned to the student's respective school office no later than May 17.

"If a boy, or girl is selected for the camp, parents will be notified and sent a package of information to be filled out and returned to the my office by a specified date," Garber said.

The complete schedule is still being formulated and will be furnished to the selected students. Transportation arrangements are being made and probably will be from central locations throughout the county, Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

Garber indicated there will be openings for some 50 to 60 youngsters for each session.

Judge Bise announces re-election candidacy

Promising continued hard work and an unwavering dedication to fairness for the people who must use the courts, Judge Carter O. Bise has announced his candidacy for re-election to Chancery Court, Place 4, serving Harrison, Hancock and Stone counties.

Judge Bise was graduated from Belhaven College and the University of Mississippi Law School. He is married to the former Penny Schilling of Waveland.

Penny and Carter Bise are the parents of two children, a daughter, Kelly, and a son, Devon. Penny Bise is a Veterans Administration speech pathologist.

Upon his appointment to fill an unexpired Chancery Court term, colleagues lauded Judge Bise for his solid reputation for integrity, and for the excellent preparation for the Chancery Court which he gained in an unusually well-balanced legal career.

Judge Carter Bise

Before coming to the bench, Judge Bise practiced law in Gulfport, where he accumulated more than 20 years of civil practice experience in work for both claimants and defendants.

Judge Bise is a member of the Harrison County Bar Association and the Mississippi State Bar Association.

A member of First United Methodist Church of Gulfport, Bise has served as a Youth Fellowship sponsor and a Sunday School teacher for 18 years.

In addition, he served on the First Methodist Administrative Board and has chaired the church's Religion, Race and Cultural Diversity Committee.

Bise is a member of Candle Lighters of the Gulf Coast for Childhood Cancer, and a former member of the Habitat for Humanity Board of Directors.

Judge Bise, age 48, is an avid marathon runner. From 1997-2001, he coached in the South Mississippi Soccer Club and the Gulfport Youth Soccer program.

In asking the voters of Harrison, Hancock, and Stone counties for their support, Bise pledged "to work hard to deliver true and speedy justice in a spirit of fairness and compassion to the families, children, and businesses in crisis who turn to the Chancery Court for solutions."

Judge Carter Bise is a candidate for re-election to Chancery Court Judge, Place 4, for Harrison, Hancock, and Stone counties in the November 2002, judicial elections.

Retreat brings 'spirit' to Waveland

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO

To encourage peace through the arts, a multi-cultural music retreat will be held on the Gulf Coast in Waveland May 17, 18, and 19.

A sacred world music event, Sound&Spirit MusicFest brings master musician/teachers from Sufi, Buddhist, Islamic, Hindu, Hebrew and Christian musical traditions together for the first time to teach songs, chants, and other traditional sound practices from each spiritual culture.

The event features an Islamic drumming dhikr (remembrance) ceremony, North Indian raga singing, a Buddhist youth Japanese taiko drumming troupe, Southern Christian full-gospel choral singing, a Jewish klezmer band, and other musical surprises.

Sunday morning, a musical Universal Worship honoring all the world's religious traditions will be presented.

Dances of Universal Peace, simple circle dances using sacred phrases from all spiritual traditions, will also be shared by trained dance leaders throughout the weekend. No sacred music event in Mississippi would be complete without Christian gospel, and Al Acker is one of the most energetic and inspiring blues-gospel choir leaders in the region.

Shabba Kahn, Sound&Spirit MusicFest's music director, well-known for teaching from a global perspective, is the founder of the Chisti-Sabri School of Music in Northern California, and is the spiritual director of the Sufi International. Pir Shabba Kahn will sing raga accompanied by New Orleans musicians Priyo Majumdar, Sean Johnson, and tabla player, Andrew McLean.

Sacred Islamic prayers and dhikr/zikr practice will be led at MusicFest by Bilal Hyde, Muslim Chaplain and Quranic Reciter for Rumi's Mevlevi (whirling dervishes), who offers Middle Eastern Drumming Dhikr sacred sound events worldwide. Imam Bilal Hyde taught Islamic History at the University of California, Berkeley, is able to balance a mystic's perspective with that of a pragmatist's, and will be available for questions on Islam.

He trained in Islamic studies and Arabic vocal recitation in Om Durman, Sudan, Egypt Ethiopia, Medina, and Mecca. The music event's organizer, Victoria Tackett, explains, "World music retreats I happen on the East Coast and the West Coast, so why not the Gulf Coast?"

Tackett had never heard the music of the New Orleans Klezmer Allstars until Ellen Kushner featured them on her radio program.

Klezmer Allstar, Glenn Hartman, was then invited to share the world-wide evolutions of sacred Hebrew music at Sound&Spirit MusicFest, and the bands joyful Jewish klezmer music will be featured in the closing celebration. The May 17-19 music retreat begins Friday evening at 7 p.m., continues all day (10 a.m.-4 p.m.) through evening on Saturday (7 p.m.-10 p.m.), and concludes on Sunday (11 a.m.-5 p.m.).

Only one musical offering will take place at a time, so that participants do not have to choose amongst them.

Sound&Spirit MusicFest will be held at Gulfside Methodist Assembly, a state historical landmark and residential conference facility on the beach in Waveland adjacent to Buccaneer State Park. For further information and a brochure with registration form, contact Victoria Tackett, Ph.D., Sound&Spirit, Box 578, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520, (228) 467-6226.

Stennis Space Center Rotary works in Christmas in April

Several Stennis Space Center (SSC) Rotary Club members spent April 27 being "Santa Claus" to an elderly resident of Bay St. Louis.

Sounds heard were not the clatter of tiny hooves on the roof but rather the buzz of saws, the thwack of weed-wackers, and the swish of paint rollers on the walls.

The Stennis Rotarians participated in the Christmas in April Hancock County Project. This annual one-day blitz rehabilitates/renovates the home of an elderly, handicapped, or disabled person. This is the sixth year for the project in Hancock County, which has touched the lives of over 28 county residents.

Some of the tasks accomplished at the pre-selected home included installing linoleum in bathroom and kitchen, sealing gaps around windows, general yard work (mowing, raking leaves, clearing bushes etc.), cleaning wooden wheelchair ramp and adding non-skid paint to ramp.

The Stennis Rotarians were not the only Stennis Space Center employees at this home site. Employees from the Naval Research Laboratory-Stennis, Commander, Naval Oceanography and Meteorology Comm, Naval Oceanographic Office, and National Data Buoy Center also worked hard.

The SSC chapter of Stennis provides a community service outlet for the employees of the more than 30 government agencies and private companies located at SSC. The main objective of the Rotary Club is service - in the community, in the workplace, and throughout the world.

The SSC chapter participates in many community and nation-wide service projects including the March Area III Special Olympics and Salvation Army "Bell Ringing."

The club consists of members from several SSC site organizations including the Naval Oceanographic Office, Naval Meteorology and Oceanography Command, Veridian, Inc., University of Southern Mississippi, Planning Systems Inc., Hancock Bank, National Coastal Data Development Center, National Oceanographic Atmospheric Association, and Mississippi Space Commerce Initiative.

The Stennis Rotary Club meets each Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. in Building 1103 on the Stennis Space Center site. For more information, visit http://www.datasync.com/stennis\_rotaryclub.

Warriors halt Rocks' track streak

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

Something out of the ordinary happened at the Pass Christian Pirate track on Friday, April 19. For just the second time since the track season of 1988, the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaw track team did not win the division championship.

In 1994, the Rocks placed second to D'Iberville by one point on a controversial call in the final event of the meet. Again, in 2002, the Warriors were the team that upstaged SSC for the title by outscoring the Rocks 162-138. East Central placed third with 66 points followed by Pass Christian with 52, Vancleave 49, Bay High 21, and Gautier with 14 points.

In the girls division, the D'Iberville Lady Warriors ran away with the title scoring 160 points to Vancleave's 114 points. Gautier placed third with 39 points followed by East Central 18, Pass Christian 16, and Bay High with 10 points.

The top four finishers in each event qualified to move on to regional competition that will be held at Gulfport on Saturday, April 27 at 10:30am.

In the boys division, the area athletes were led by three second place finishes by SSC's Kyle Lewis. He finished as runner-up in the 3200m, 1600m, and 800m runs with times of 10:16, 4:46, and 2:08.69, respectively. Lewis finished second in each race to defending state champion Jake Raines of East Central High School.

Also, Cheick Sanankoua of SSC had a stellar day qualifying in three individual events. He advanced with a first place in the 200m dash, a fourth place in the high jump, and a second place in the triple jump. His winning time in the 200m dash was 23.45. Sanankoua's high jump was 5'6" and the triple jump distance was 39'10".

Other qualifiers for SSC were led by Allen Leone who placed fourth in the 3200m run in 10:48. Sam Hudgens crossed the tape in third place in the 110m high hurdles with a time of 18.20. Kody Cannon took fourth place in the 1600m run with a time of 5:02. Brent Acker battled for second place in the 400m dash and fourth place in the 800m run with times of 52.48 and 2:11.93. Logan Walker placed third in the 300m intermediate hurdles with a time of 43.56.

Frederick Mallini and Aaron White placed second and fourth in the shot put with best throws of 43'7" and 39'5", respectively. Nick Weinman and Jeremy Burke took second and third in the discus with throws of 120' and 98'4".

Nick Cotter rounded out the SSC qualifiers with a second place showing in the pole vault by clearing 10'6".

Monroe Jordan will advance in the 100m and 200m dashes. Jordan is the district champion in the 100m with a time of 11.44 and placed second in the 200m in 23.71.

Reggie Dedeaux advanced for Pass Christian with a fourth place finish in the 400m dash crossing the tape in 54.98.

Calvin Woods and Maurice Hardnett qualified in the long jump. Woods placed second with a leap of 20'3" and Hardnett jumped 19'6" for fourth place. Hardnett won the high jump with a leap of 6'0". Teammate Greg Porter placed second in the high jump clearing the bar at 5'10".

The St. Stanislaus 800m relay team of Logan Walker, Brent Acker, Brian Butler, and Cheick Sanankoua placed third with a time of 1:33.00. The Pass Christian relay team of Maurice Hardnett, Chad Musgrove, Reggie Dedeaux, and Ledea Johnson advance with a fourth place finish in 1:35.00.

In the 400m relay, the Pirates edged out SSC for third place in 46.08. The Pirates' team was made up of Hardnett, Musgrove, Dedeaux, and Woods. The SSC team of Walker, John Lagarbo, Brice Monu, and Brian Butler took fourth place in 46.78.

SSC won the 1600m relay with a time of 3:40.28. The Rocks team of Acker, Leone, Walker, and Butler had to come from behind to score the win over D'Iberville on a gutsy final leg by Butler.

In the girls division, Bay High qualified Sharmaine Rieux in the 200m dash. Rieux placed second with a time of 28.21.

The Lady Pirates are sending Tori Terrel in the 400m dash and the 400m relay team. Terrel won the event with a time of 1:06.82. The Lady Pirates relay team finished fourth with a time of 59.20. The team was comprised of Venicia Lizana, Tasha Bailey, Crystal Westbrook, and Terrel.

New book a guide to state fish, waters

By James L. Cummins

If you're a fisherman, one of the best catches you'll make all year is a new book "Fishing Mississippi," just released "by" University Press of Mississippi.

No matter how much you know about fishing, you'll learn something new in this guidebook to state species and waters by veteran outdoors writer and my friend, Tony Kinton of Carthage.

In the first half of the book, Kinton profiles the major species of fish found in the Magnolia State: bluegill and various sunfish, walleye, sauger, warmouth and crappie, spotted, largemouth, striped, white and hybrid bass and blue, channel and flathead catfish.

He describes each fish's habits and habitats, and the tactics it takes to catch them in a variety of conditions. Kinton also throws in some personal anecdotes and interviews with experts.

The second half of the book outlines fishing destinations around the state, with brief logistical profiles of rivers, lakes, reservoirs, oxbows, even the Gulf Coast. There are also plenty of useful maps of lakes showing locations of brush piles, stumps, channels, boat ramps and other features.

The 188-page book ($19.95 softcover, $46 hardback) is illustrated with black and white photos of anglers, plus a full-color chart of game fish species. It's got a foreword by fishing pro Bill Dance.

Here are some excerpts of Kinton's discussion of two species of fish:

Largemouth bass: "The fish affords an inexhaustible topic for discussion, and has spawned an incredible following of experts, pros, defenders, researchers, lovers, and awe-struck observers, not to mention a lucrative and influential accumulation of consociated business pursuits. This has become the fish of dreams, and its economic impact certainly reaches into the millions of dollars annually in Mississippi alone."

Channel catfish: "Also good are spots where the river is pushing into or pulling out of a slough or lake. There will usually be a cut that in low water separates the slough or lake from the main stream, and there, at the confluence of the slough and/or lake and river channel, channel catfish will gather. A trotline or casting gear rigged to drift near the bottom will work wonders."

University Press is sponsoring big-fish contests at bait stores and marinas around the state. Winners for biggest bass, panfish and catfish get a copy of "Fishing Mississippi," while winner of biggest fish of any species also gets a copy of "Inland Fishes of Mississippi" by Dr. Steve Ross.

James L. Cummins is executive director of the Mississippi Fish and Wildlife Foundation in Stoneville. Known as "Wildlife Mississippi," the Foundation is a non-profit, conservation organization founded to conserve, restore and enhance fish, wildlife and plant resources throughout Mississippi. Their web site is www.wildlifemiss.org.

BSL football, cheer registration

Bay Little Theatre salutes 'Mr. Roberts'

The Bay St. Louis Little Theater will present "Mr. Roberts," a tribute to our country's military for Memorial Day.

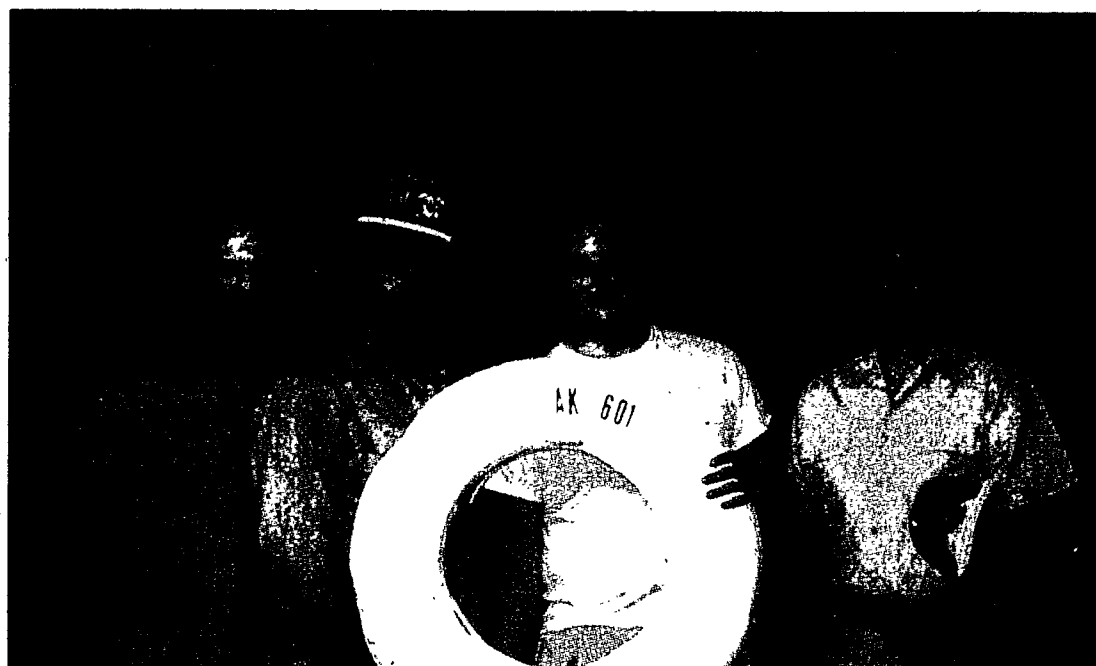

This rowdy, realistic story of a Navy cargo mission takes place in the South Pacific during World War II aboard the USS Reluctant.

The crew members, led by Mr. Roberts (played by Darrell Hughes) and Ensign Pulver (Jay Coker) are bored with their endless ferrying across the ocean, and decide to play a series of practical jokes against the cantankerous captain (John Harter.)

The deadly boredom is broken by these hijinks on the high seas, but Mr. Roberts still yearns for the glory of combat duty.

"Mr. Roberts" enjoyed great success in the 1955 film starring Henry Fonda as Mr. Roberts, Jack Lemmon as Ensign Pulver in an Academy Award-winning role, and James Cagney as the Captain.

The Bay St. Louis Little Theater production is directed by Ted Stechman and co-directed by Glenda

"Mr. Roberts"

The cast includes Jack Schornick as "Doc," Darrell Hughes as "Mr. Roberts," Jay Coker as "Ensign Pulver," and John Harter as "The Captain." Performances will be May 24, 25, 31, and June 1 at 8 p.m. and a matinee May 26 at 2 p.m.

Schornick. The play contains some adult language, and may not be suitable for children.

Performances will be Friday and Saturday evening, May 24 and 25 at 8 and a Sunday matinee on May 26 at 2 p.m.

Mr. Roberts will be performed again at 8 p.m. on May 31 and June 1. The playhouse is located at 301 Boardman Street in Bay St. Louis. Admission is $10 for adults and $7 for students under 18. All veterans will be admitted for this special show at half the normal ticket price.

Tickets will be available at the door on the night of the show. A 20% discount for groups of 10 or more guests is available. Please call the theater for reservations at 467-2587. For information, visit www.BSLLT.com.

Club Tiki opens poolside at Beau Rivage

Beginning May 16 through Sept. 5, Club Tiki opens every Thursday night poolside at Beau Rivage.

This retro-modern version of a Tiki Bar will boast four bars, a dance floor, VIP areas, full Cabana service, innovative fare, cocktail service, assorted club games and activities as well as a featured promotion each week.

Club Tiki will be equipped with state-of-the-art audio and lighting, filling the pool and surrounding areas with vibrant rhythmic beats and changing colors. Video screens placed throughout will show beach and surf videos as well as tropical images.

Club Tiki will celebrate the cocktail hour with drink specials from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. From 9 p.m. to 12 a.m., Club Tiki will become a high-energy dance club pulsating with sound and color featuring one of New Orleans's top disc jockeys Maverick.

The "Tiki Cuisine Menu" will include various 'island' style food served on sticks, skewers, and spears.

An intriguing drink menu will be filled with exotic concoctions served in plastic Tiki heads. Frozen libations will keep the sensual summer nights cool and the party spirit alive.

While there is no cover charge to enter, cabanas will be available for those who want that "little something special." Cabana rentals will start at $150 for up to six guests.

The cabana area will be transformed into velvet-rope VIP lounge with an emphasis on a more intimate setting and attentive service.

Cabana service will include a refrigerator stocked full of bottled water and sodas; a Pu Pu Platter featuring fresh fruit kabobs, stacked onion rings, fried coconut shrimp and Tiki dogs; and use of the jacuzzi and beach towels.

Beau Rivage Resort & Casino, named one of the top 100 hotels in the continental United States and Canada by Travel + Leisure Magazine, is a wholly owned subsidiary of MGM MIRAGE.

D'head Dance Club performs at Jazz & Heritage Festival

Some 12 members of the Diamondhead Dance Club joined the Bon Temps Roulez Second-Liners for a parade at the New Orleans Jazz Fest May 2.

The crowd followed the second liners all along the route and took numerous pictures. The club had its after-parade party at Sicily's Pizza in Bay St.

Louis. Other performances: May 9 at the Mississippi Welcome Center for National Tourism Week; May 15, Dunbar Village Nursing Home; May 25, Diamondhead's Memorial Day celebration on the greens in front of the country club; May 26, Our Lady of Fatima Catholic Church

Fair in Biloxi.

On June 15 the club takes part in the Summer Fair at the Coast Coliseum. This month marks the ninth anniversary of the Diamondhead Dance Club.

Members will celebrate with a dinner at the country club. The club meets Wednesday nights and is open to all.

Mississippi
Summer
sun coleus awarded

SOUTHERN GARDENING
BY NORMAN WINTER
MSU Horticulturist
Central Mississippi
Research & Extension
Center

The phrase "Mississippi summer" brings visions of torrid heat and humidity to the minds of most gardeners, but that will not be the case after the spring of 2002.

Mississippi Summer is the name of a new sun coleus that has been given the Mississippi Medallion award for 2002.

Mississippi Summer was discovered south of Brandon in Rankin County and thrives in high heat and humidity - giving it summerlong performance.

Gardeners will find it to be a virtual kaleidoscope of maroon, burgundy and pink, complete with ruffled edges or margins.

Not only is Mississippi Summer sun coleus able to flourish in full sun, it also excels in those areas of the garden receiving only filtered light. It reaches a height of 30 to 36 inches in the garden, giving it the ability to make a real landscape impact.

Mississippi Summer sun coleus is a low-maintenance plant that is almost fool-proof when grown in well-drained soil and watered through drought periods. They are also excellent in baskets, especially when grown in combination with a vining or cascading plant.

Mississippi Summer is resistant to blooming, which is just fine since it is the boldly colored foliage that attracts appreciative stares.

When flowers do develop, simply pinch these off, and you will help develop a bushy plant. Even if flowers do not develop, pinching in mid-summer makes for a bushier plant heading into fall.

One key to success with coleus is adding organic matter to improve bedding soil. If you have heavy clay soil, organic matter will improve drainage and aeration and allow better root development. Liberal amounts of organic matter help sandy soils hold water and nutrients.

The combination plantings for Mississippi Summer are almost endless. It works extremely well in the mixed flower garden with other annuals and perennials.

Some of the most colorful companion plantings use bright golds and yellows from previous Mississippi Medallion winners like New Gold lantana and Indian Summer rudbeckia.

In this type of planting, you definitely will want to Evelyn Hense, AKA. the Lund sisters, may be retirees, but they are hardly spending their days sitting on the porch in their rockers. As a matter of fact, women years younger would have a difficult time keeping up with this dynamic group.

The youngest sister Trinna is visiting out of state.

All the sisters have calendars and all of the calendars are full of events, most of which they attend as a group. Among their activities are the Garden Club, the Women's Club, the Art Guild, and the Newcomers Committee. They all participate in fundraisers for various charitable organizations. On Sundays, they go to church in the morning and to the casino in the afternoon. They have all been queens of the Krewe of

"Wherever one of us goes, the others follow," said Philip.

"If one of us is out alone someone always says, you're one of those sisters," said Reshew. "Everyone knows us as the sisters."

During their teen years, their father moved them all out to a farm to keep them out of trouble, he told them. "We were never allowed to go out on a date alone so we went out on one another's dates," said Philip.

The sisters, originally from Michigan, have followed one another across the U.S. since World War II, when Rhodes joined the Navy as a WAVE and was stationed in Washington D.C. During the early years of the war, they all worked in a defense factory that made parachutes.

All four are retired from the Naval Oceanographic Office and members of NARF, the National Association of Federal Employees. Trinna is a retired stewardess from Northwest Orient Airlines, but worked initially for the same office.

When Rhodes went to Washington, everyone else followed, and all the sisters ended up marrying men that they met at work there. Reshew sang around town with various bands on her off time.

Rhodes was, at one time the only female negative engraver in the lithographic division. Philip, Reshew, and Hense were cartographic draftsmen.

A prayer for rain

(Last year I wrote this column in desperation for rain. Several days later we had Allison. So read this quietly. In fact go in your closet and get in a corner with the shoes and read it with a flashlight under a blanket. Just be careful, we don't want to much rain.)

Yesterday we could see black rain clouds to our north and hear the distant boom of thunder. We knew someone back there was going to get some rain, but we also knew that it was not us. We even got a little of the shading associated with the dark clouds and with this the temperature dropped down to the lower eighties.

But no rain. It's nice to get cooled off by our neighbor's clouds, but what we really need is their water.

This kind of thing, showers everywhere but here, has been going on for some time. Too much time. It happened last weekend and the weekend before. When I complain to someone in Picayune or Saucier about our not getting any rain, they start giving me a long story of the inch or so of rain they had had "just the other day."

Somehow that doesn't make me feel any better.

When you look at actual measurements, even the rains they've been having are very small, just barely enough to wet the roads and water a few petunias. They need more, too. A lot more.

I've been in the country north of I-10 and from all appearances, the drought is hitting these inland areas worse than here on the Coast.

When you get down to it, we all could use several days of some good old hard, ground thumping, by gosh, wet and heavy, last for an afternoon, deep in the ground, make a puddle big enough for kid splashing kind of rain.

None of us have been getting that.

Nor did we get the normal amount of rain in the spring of this year. That hurt just by itself. Now it's summer, the time of year when all we can usually expect are scattered showers that are the result of afternoon heating. In normal years, these scattered afternoon showers happen

Local students among spring graduates at MSU

More than 2,200 Mississippi State students were candidates for degrees at the conclusion of the 2002 spring semester.

Graduates received diplomas May 11 in ceremonies in Humphrey Coliseum.

Glenn L. McCullough Jr., chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, was the commencement speaker. A 1977 MSU agricultural economics graduate and former Tupelo mayor, he was named last year by President George W. Bush to lead the nation's largest public utility.

Graduates include Matthew Allen of Waveland and Elizabeth Austin of Diamondhead, each a bachelor of arts degree from the College of Arts & Sciences.

Lisa Cuevas of Pearllington, bachelor of architecture, cum laude from the College of Architecture; and Marie Cuevas of Pearllington, bachelor of science from the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences. Christopher Feters and Rhonda Feters, both of Hancock County, each received a master of science degree from the College of Engineering.

Kerri James of Diamondhead, bachelor of science degree from the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences; Kendall Ladner of Perkinston, bachelor of science from the College of Engineering.

Jamie Schaefer of Hancock County, bachelor of science from the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

LaChina Tillman of Bay St. Louis, bachelor of science degree in engineering from the College of Engineering; and Sean Ziegler of Hancock County, master of science degree in engineering from the College of Engineering.

Garden -- awards

plant several of each to create bold drifts. The pristine white of Shasta daisies also looks exceptional.

In the tropical-style garden, use as understory plantings beside tall bananas or upright elephant ears. Try colorful flowers like the golden trumpet or allamanda, and use in combination with angel trumpets in the apricot, pink, white or yellow color range.

Mississippi Summer's ruffled margins also fit the cottage garden look very well. Placed up against a white picket fence that is draped with a David Austin English rose, like Evelyn, certainly would create a Kodak moment.

Lastly, Mississippi Summer will still be looking good going into fall and is perfect for combining with the ornamental grasses like Hameln dwarf fountain grass, Muhly grass and those new Belgian mums.

Mississippi Summer is a breeze to propagate by cutting for additional plants or to make sure you overwinter one or two for next year. Simply take a six-inch cutting by removing the lower set of leaves and place it in moist potting soil or sand.

Look for Mississippi

Summer sun coleus at your local garden center, and don't forget to try the other 2002 winners: Lilac Chaste tree and Dragon Wing red begonia.

BUSINESSES WHO ENCOURAGE ALL OF US TO ATTEND WORSHIP SERVICES

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

BE MY GUEST!

IN THE DAYS OF THE BIBLICAL PATRIARCHS, THE RULES OF HOSPITALITY WERE STRICTLY ADHERED TO. SOME OF THE CUSTOMS WERE CERTAINLY BIZARRE AND ODD, TO SAY THE LEAST! FOR INSTANCE, A MAN'S ENEMY BY THE MERE ACT OF TOUCHING THE MAN'S TENT POLE IMMEDIATELY BECAME HIS GUEST AND, AS SUCH, COULD CLAIM FOOD, DRINK, AND PROTECTION IN THE TENT FOR THREE DAYS PLUS FOUR HOURS—AND, ON LEAVING, COULD CLAIM FURTHER IMMUNITY FROM HARM FOR THIRTY-SIX MORE HOURS!

IN ANOTHER ASPECT OF HOSPITALITY A MAN'S WEALTH WAS MEASURED BY THE NUMBER OF GUESTS ENTERTAINED. NEHEMIAH, GOVERNOR OF JERUSALEM, ENTERTAINED 150 MEN AT A SITTING! KING AHAZ AND JEZEBEL FED 800 PRIESTS OF BAAL DAILY (UNTIL ELISHA SLAUGHTERED THEM!). FOR SOLOMON'S FEASTS AT HIS COURT, ONE DAY'S PROVISIONS INCLUDED "...10 FAT OXEN, 20 CATTLE, 100 SHEEP, HARTS AND ROEBUCKS, FALLOWDEER AND FATTED FOWL." (1 KINGS 4:22FF). IT WAS A MATTER OF PRIDE FOR KINGS, NOBLES, AND ALL WEALTHY MEN TO PROCLAIM HOW MANY PEOPLE THEY FED AND ENTERTAINED. BUT FOR SHEER NUMBERS JESUS OUTDID THEM ALL—WELL, DIDN'T HE FEED THE FIVE THOUSAND? (MATT. 14:14-21)

The depressed call out to us

"I don't understand why I get so depressed from time to time. As a strong believer in God's power and love, I should think that I would be above all these sad, burdensome feelings. Yet, they continue to return off and on with devastating force, oppressing me to the point of my wanting to end it all."

"God has given me all the tools, all the weapons to fight depression or anything else which may afflict me. My big problem has been that I have not been using the tools God gave me, and, of course, I have paid dearly for that."

Without God's special boost, I am helpless against depression." This urgent long-distance call came from a middle-aged person who prays often, stays in touch with God, meditates frequently, and is tightly focused on participating in the liturgy, church activities and community projects. In spite of this high-level, high-energy contact, depression rears its ugly head.

"Ninety-nine percent of the people who are suffering, are suffering because they do not know the Lord," the call continued reflectively.

This is much more easily said and understood by an adult who has been around the block a few times. But what about children? It is becoming ever more obvious that a sizable number of children, especially adolescents, are grievously afflicted with depression. In fact, the overall percentage is running as high as eight, and roughly twenty percent, or one in five, of all teenagers have deliberated seriously about taking their own life. The big difference is that adults have at least some background experience, resources and information concerning what they should do, while teenagers generally have no clue as to what to think, where to turn and what to do.

That can make for a very lonely and frightening existence where young folks feel left out of everything positive and important, and locked hopelessly into everything negative and practically worthless.

Most frightening of all, some eight to eleven in every 100,000 teenagers take their own lives, or about as many as die from all natural causes. So alien is this phenomenon that the very notion of young people taking their own life is unnatural, unthinkable.

Parents and guardians, be on the lookout for mood swings in your children, which may indicate serious instability, a deeply troubled mind, and an abiding sadness underlying their attitudes, their agenda and world view. Parade, the Sunday May 5, 2002 magazine of the New Orleans Times Picayune newspaper, fires the latest salvo in the war against depression, in particular the baffling, mysterious phenomenon of teenage depression.

In addition to mood changes, other signs of teen depression are loss of interest in hobbies and various activities, lack of enjoyment of most things, changes in sleep patterns, changes in appetite, changes in energy levels, difficulties in school, and self-criticism, even self-blame when faultless.

So, if your teenager is a dour, sad, somber person dripping with dark melancholia, beware. You may be dealing with a time bomb armed with a detonator or fuse of unknown, probably short, length.

Of course, frank, open, affirmative communication with our children is number one on the list of remedies for depression. Our youngsters have a felt need to know they are wanted, needed, accepted, appreciated and taken seriously whenever they have personal, nagging problems.

Dianne Hales and Dr. Robert E. Hales also note in their article that parents should have their teens screened for depression, get professional help early on, keep dangerous medications out of the way, remove all guns, secure the most updated treatment, and expose the dangers of alcohol and illegal drugs.

A major-league problem with pinpointing and controlling depression, as we have been hearing and reading for decades, is that it is a monster of many guises, a fearsome Hydra which may be congenital, rooted in mental, sexual or physical trauma, or stemming from chemical deficiency or surfeit. As in all problems with a car, an appliance or a human being, the most important step by far is an accurate diagnosis of what is causing the devious Hydra of depression which dances before us. Unfortunately, most humans are notoriously inept at diagnosing even the most pedestrian problems.

Once diagnosed, the offending depression must be immediately attacked from as many angles and with as many resources as possible. Alas, here comes the final rub. We adults who are applying the remedies are as often as not afflicted in our own way, many of us bucking the horse of depression. Joining such luminaries as Abraham Lincoln, Winston Churchill, Richard Burton, Judy Garland, Edgar Allan Poe, William Faulkner and Marilyn Monroe, we dare to attempt to address and cure in our children what afflicts us in every walk of life and in every profession, including psychiatry.

Lest we be visited by the proverbial disaster of "the blind leading the blind" (Luke 6:39), we had better realize that we need all the resources of modern medicine and psychology, but, even more than that, we need the transcendent power of the One who fashioned our whole complex

Scripture Says...

By Ed Young

Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these - adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, sorcery, hatred, strife, jealousy, wrath, factions, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revelings and the like of; of which I told you before - those who do such things will NOT inherit the Kingdom of God (Galatians 5: 19-21). However, IF persons are guilty of these sins, they can be forgiven, IF they REPENT and ask Jesus to come in and take over their lives - and He will. Nevertheless, if a person keeps the Ten Commandments to the best of their ability, attend church regularly, are kind to the neighbor, gives to charities, but has not repented of these sins and ask Jesus the Savior into their lives - they are LOST.

You must be "born again," otherwise you will not inherit the Kingdom of God (St. John 3:3).

The "Word" for the Week
Can I cope?

Dennis J. Prutow • Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

To cope with life means you are up to the challenge. Not only so, to cope means you meet the challenge head on. You are equal to the task. But our own inner strength is not enough. We often fail. When we do, we throw our hands in the air and cry, "I can't cope."

What is the answer? The Bible says, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me" (Philippians 4:13). In other words, "I am able, I can."

The point is not positive thinking. We don't conjure up the strength. The point is we are given real ability, strength, and usefulness. It is given to us by Christ through the Holy Spirit.

What we are talking about is heart power. We think differently than we did before. We see problems from a new perspective. Our emotions are also tempered.

Like a rod of tempered steel, we bend but snap back. We simply handle things better. We are also given new willpower. We are not afraid to make decisions.

So we can make decisions more easily. Christ gives us this strength. As a result, we can cope with the life that comes our way. If you find you can't cope, the power is at hand. It is not in your hand. It is in the hands of Christ. Turn to Him.

OLA student to attend leadership conference

Leanne La France of Bay St. Louis has been selected to attend the National Young Leaders Conference to be held July 22 to August 1 in Washington, DC.

La France will represent Mississippi, Hancock County and Our Lady Academy as a National Scholar.

The NYLC is a leadership development program for high school students who have demonstrated leadership potential and scholastic merit.

La France will be among 350 outstanding national scholars from around the country to attend the conference.

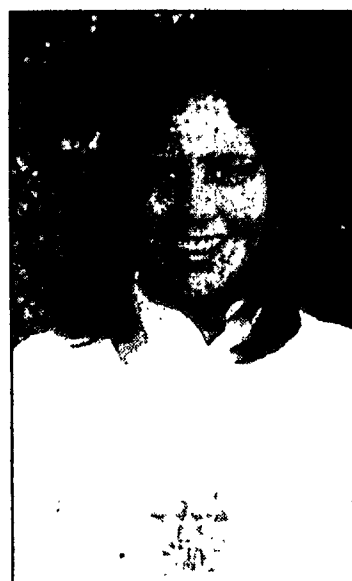

She will be joining the most elite high school students in the country. A fraction of one percent who possesses the drive and determination to emerge as the world's future leaders.

Theme of the NYLC is "The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today."

Throughout the 11-day conference, participants will interact with key leaders and newsmakers from the three branches of government, the media and the diplomatic corps.

Highlights of the program will include welcoming remarks from the floor of the U. S. House of Representatives and a panel discussion with journalists at the National Press Club.

La France will also meet

Leanne La France

with senators and a representative or an appointed member of their staff to discuss important issues facing the nation.

"The National Young Leaders Conference provides an opportunity for students like Leanne La France to distinguish themselves as tomorrow's leaders," said Michael Lasday, executive director of the Congressional Youth Leadership Council, the organization that sponsors the NYLC.

"Scholars not only gain knowledge and experience in the nation's capital, they leave with a sense of accomplishment and an increased ability to face the challenges of the future."

To complement the schedule of special meetings and briefings, La France and other participants will take part in a number of leadership skill-building activities.

In one role-play, activity known as "If I Were President," students act as the president and Cabinet members responding to an international crisis.

Students will also participate in a judicial simulation called "Testing the Constitution," in which they examine actual Supreme Court cases.

The NYLC will culminate with the Model Congress, in which scholars assume the roles of U. S. Representatives and debate, amend and vote on proposed legislation.

The Congressional Youth Leadership Council is a nonprofit, nonpartisan educational organization. Founded in 1985, it is committed to fostering and inspiring young people to achieve their full leadership potential.

Also, La France has been selected to attend the 2002 YMCA Youth Conference on National Affairs. This conference will be held at the YMCA Blue Ridge Assembly in Black Mountain, North Carolina June 28 to July 4.

La France is being invited to represent the state at this conference through her outstanding performance during YMCA Youth and Government.

As a member of the Mississippi delegation, which La France serves as secretary of the Senate, she will have the opportunity to represent our state during a fast-paced conference that focuses on a nationwide perspective.

La France is a sophomore at Our Lady Academy and a National Honor Society member. She is daughter of Fran La France and stepdaughter of Ricky Viator of Bay St. Louis, and Tommy La France and stepdaughter of Rosalind La France of Bay St. Louis.

The CrossOver Bridge is a medical and surgical weight management center located in Ocean Springs, MS. Our surgeons are board certified and specialize in laparoscopic weight loss surgery. They are the most experienced in the state of Mississippi and among the most experienced in the nation. Our goal is to provide potential patients with all the information needed to make an educated decision about weight loss surgery. We are here to address all questions in a caring and understandable manner so our patients are confident in their choice of a surgical procedure. We offer four (4) different weight loss surgeries because we feel no one surgery is right for everyone. All 4 surgeries may be done laparoscopically. We are the only weight loss program in Mississippi and Alabama certified to offer the Adjustable Gastric Band or LapBand® which is the least invasive weight loss surgery available today. Call our office at 800 615-2915 for a free consultation or visit our website at www.thecrossoverbridge.com. Our staff is ready to assist you.
